WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 2. The Custer Massacre--- A Desperate Battle.

The First Pull and Reliable Particulars.

Curcago, July 7 .- The Times' Bismarck special gives the following particulars of the Custer

In a recent dispatch I informed you that Custer expected to strike the Indians and give them buttle on the 24th, as stated. He left the mouth of the Rosebud on the 22d with twelve companies of the Fifth Cavalry, striking the trail where Manufactured by the Pacific Rubber Paint Co. of San Francisco. Reno left it, leading in the direction of the Little Horn, a branch of the Big Horn. On the evening of the 24th the scouts reported fresh trails, and on the morning of the 25th discovered an Indian village twenty miles above the mouth of the Little Horn, about three miles long half a men rapidly, though they had made a long march. seventy-eight miles, in the twenty-four hours im. mediately preceding the battle, and when near the village struck on abandoned "tepee," while the Indians were moving in bot haste, as if in retreat. Reno with seven companies of the Seventh Cavalry was ordered to the left to attack the village IMPROVED FARMING TOOLS AND MACHINERY! at its head, while Custer with five companies went to the right and commenced a vigorous at-

Benton with the other four companies of his detachment. In the meantime the Indians resumed the attack which had abated in vigor for an hour or so, making repeated desperate charges, which were repulsed with great slaughter to the Indians. They gained a higher duff, however, than the one occupied by Reno, and as their arms were of longer range than those of the cavalry, they kept up a galling fire until nightfall. During the night Reno strongthened his position and was prepared for the attack which was renewed at daylight. Custer was surrounded on every side by the Indians, and his men and horses fell as they fought those who wield it. The village numbered 1800 lodges and many willow tepees had been added within a lew days. It is believed by those who fought that the warriors must have numbered 4000. Gen. Terry feels deeply the loss, and feels the more keenly as Gen. Coster was directed to find and feel the Indians, but not to fight them unless Gen. Terry arrived with infantry and Gibbon's column. He had arranged to reach the mouth of the Little Horn on the evening of Jane 25th, when Caster OFFEE URNS. When the fighting ceased for the night, Reno caused his animals to be likewise relieved, and further prepared for the attack which he knew would be resumed the next morning. The officers and men kept in good heart but all wondered what had become of Custer. There had been 48 Shelf Hardware, Glass Ware, Tin Ware hours of fighting and no word from their belove commander. the village in great confusion, then Reno knew Custer was neur. Gen. Terry with Gibbon's command and his own infantry had arrived, and as the commands in arms met strong men wept on the necks of each other. After congratulations to the gallant commander for his successful defence, inquiries were made for Custer, but none could tell. Soon an officer came rushing into camp and related that he had found Custer dead, stripped naked, but not mutilated, and near him his two brothers, Col. Tom and Boston Custer, his brother-in-law, Col. Calhoun and nephew, Col. Ystes, Col. Keogh, Capt. Smith, Lieut. Crittenden, (son of Gen. Crittenden), Lieut. Stargis (son of Gen. Stargis). Col. Cooke, Lieut. Porter, Lieut. Harrington, Dr. Lord, (the Bismarck Times' reporter, the only correspondent with the expedition), and 190 men and scouts. Caster went into battle with companies C, L. I, F and E of the Seventh Cavalry, the staff and the non-commissioned staff of his regiment, and a number of scouts, and only one Crow scout remains to tell the tale.

The following dispatch was received at the War Department :

To Gen. E. D. Townsend, Adjutant General: Capt. Smith of Gen. Terry's staff, telegraphs from Bismarck as follows :

Gen. Custer, Cepts. Custer, Keogh, Yates and Cook, Lieuts. Smith, McIntosh, Calhoun, Hudson, Beilly, Porter, Storgis and Crittenden are killed. Lieut. Harrington and Surgeon Lord are missing; 261 dend have been found, and 52 wounded brought away.

A. C. DRUM, A. A. G. CHICAGO, July 15th .-- A Times Bismarck spe cial says: The impression prevails here that the military authorities do not realize the work they have to do. The Indians in the hostile camps are believed to number at least 10,000, and while there are many women and children, nearly all of these are effective in a campaign. There are certainly from 5000 to 7000 Indians who can and will light until subdued, and the fate of Custer should be a warning that they intend to make thorough work, and have confidence in their abil-ity to do it.

There are less than 3000 troops all told operating against the Indians, and nearly half of these are used in guarding wagon trains or suppply denies that where you saw this advertisement. pots. There seems to be a disposition on the part of each command to win glory for itself with-out the aid of co-operating forces. Until more effective measures are taken you may look for continued disaster or an abortive campaign.

Col. Borke, Indian Agent at Standing Rock, writes that there can be no peace until the hos-tile bands are broken and subdued, that the most horrible crimes mey be committed under the noses of the Agents or the military, and a moment afterwards the perpetrator is on his way to the hos-tiles, where, being desperate, he becomes the bravest of the brave. The hostiles are rich in plunder, rich in horses, and rich in the fruits of the chase, and each Indian post and trading ageory becomes to them a base of supplies, which they have abundant means to obtain .- Sac. HUNT'S REMEDY.

THIS REMEDY WAS ORIGINALLY PRE-CRIBED by an embent physician for a in Mrs Hunt's family. John Hunt, aged at out and pieth-ric habit, was selzed with a of general dropsy, which in a few days thre re it with great care, and in order to maure this it wreated to the family of Mr. Hunt to procure and co manifest. The kidneys were immediately affected and roused to action; the swelling of the lega rapidly ambided, the lungs were freed and resumed their healthy and agreeable action; the flesh of limbs resumed its elasticity, exclude," remaining, and he was rapidly convalencing when unfortunately, prompted by this rapid improvement, he gave up the remedy for a short time.

It was unfortunate, for the curative process was arrested, the kidneys flagged in their action, again becoming topid, the water increased with frightful rapidity and he soon again found himself in a very alarming state. The remedy was again had recourse to, and by its persevering use the disease was a second time studied. But this was a most sagrawated and severe case, and it look all the virtues of the Bennedy, combined with care and time, to eradicate the effects of the disease. But through a persevering use of it a permanent cure was effected, and he resumed his active out-of-door occupation, within a short time, a well main. This was the manner in which the Remedy was brought into notice, and since then for a period of twenty five (25) years the medicine has been prepared after the same approved formula by Mrs. Hunt, and used by our first physicans in their private practice, for this and similar complaints.

It has been well and favorably known and extensively
